Welcome to Nutrifresh Premium Quality Free Range Eggs

SUREGROW FARMS.Pvt.Ltd was started in 2015 and is currently involved in Organic Produce farming, Pasture raised dairy and poultry products. Our aim is to be the “change” in the current agriculture landscape where in utmost importance is given to the environment, farming techniques and well being of the animals to produce healthier and better tasting products for our customers.

Not all eggs are made equal: It’s a sad reality of today’s egg industry that most of the egg laying hens spend their whole lives in cramped wire cages in huge agricultural factories which is cruel and inhumane. The commercial eggs from these factory farms have almost negligible nutritional value and are ridden with chemicals, which are harmful for human consumption.

We are proud to say that our Free Range hens live in spacious barns with ample space to roam, scratch, roost and exhibit their natural behavior as chickens. They have access to large outdoor pastures where they get plenty of fresh air, sunshine and exercise. Care is taken to raise the hens in a healthy, humane and ethical way by ensuring the highest animal protection standards. This reduces stress and encourages them to lay healthier and more nutritious eggs.

The hens are provided with round the clock fresh clean drinking water and feed. They eat a lot of natural green forage including herbs along with bugs, insects and whole grains. We strive to provide a natural diet to them and DO NOT include any animal byproducts in their feed.

Our hens are never treated with growth hormones, antibiotics, steroids or growth enhancers to increase their weight or egg production. We firmly believe in ethical farming and animal well-being because healthy chickens lay nutritious eggs. Pasture-raised eggs may have One-third less cholesterol, One-quarter less saturated fat, Two-thirds more vitamin A and three times as much as vitamin E and seven times as much beta carotene than commercial eggs.
